LEED® Green Associate Exam Preparation Course

YOU can be a distinguished green building professional!

About the Course:

LEED® Green Associate is the most prominent credential for distinguishing qualified green building professionals, and it is designed specifically for professionals with a non-technical background.

The course is taught by a skilled and experienced LEED® Accredited Professional. Learn everything you need to know to pass the exam, including costs and benefits of green building, LEED® certification process, and LEED® core concepts (regarding site development, water efficiency, energy efficiency, building materials, and indoor environmental quality).
